

ASHA NOVICE ELIGIBILITY CHANGE FOR 2015

- New Novice Eligibility for 2015
- New Green Horse Eligibility for 2015
- 2015 Board of Directors
- 2014 National & Regional Honor Roll Recipients

The American Stock Horse Association has been in the process for the better part of 2014 to define and clarify what it means to be a Novice rider in ASHA. The Committee assigned to this task began by addressing several questions. Does the Novice Eligibility reflect the ASHA Mission Statement? What is the purpose of the Novice Division? What was the true original intent of this rule?

Looking at all four classes as a whole and not singling out the cattle or reining portion of the competition, fulfills the ASHA Mission Statement, "To make better horses and riders".

The Novice Division is designed as a beginning step for exhibitors and creates a place for them to hone their skills and build confidence.

For some individuals it is necessary for them to move on to the next step— Limited Non Pro, Green Horse, Non Pro or Open. This may not be true for everyone, but the Novice Division is there to help build the confidence of newer exhibitors to the Association. ASHA encourages exhibitors to challenge themselves and their horses by picking a division that best suits their abilities.

The NEW ASHA Novice eligibility reads as follows:

1. Adheres to all Non Pro eligibility requirements.
2. Has limited showing experience in all four classes provided by ASHA. If a riders eligibility is in question, they must attend an ASHA Approved Clinic to be assessed by an ASHA Clinician and Event Manager in all four classes. (Assessment form will be found on the ASHA Website)
3. Once a Novice earns a combination of 3 High Points or Reserve High Points at a show or ASHA Year End High Point or Reserve High Point, with no exception the rider is no longer eligible for Novice.
4. Stallions are prohibited in this division
5. If a member loses their eligibility through competition, they may finish that year as a Novice. In the future, the member is eligible only for Limited Non Pro, Non Pro, Open or Green Horse Divisions.
6. Riders in this division will work Novice and Youth Working Cow Horse Pattern. The cow horse pattern is a shortened version of cow work which will not involve turns down the fence, circling or roping.

★ If you have previously lost your Novice Eligibility but have not won 3 High Points or Reserve High Points, you may return to the Novice Division.

Limited show experience in any one of the four classes will make you Novice eligible.

A TRUE NOVICE is easy to determine. For those exhibitors on the border line, an assessment may be necessary. You will need to attend an ASHA clinic and have the Clinicians access your abilities and sign off on the assessment form.

ASHA GREEN HORSE ELIGIBILITY CHANGE FOR 2015

In the Fall 2013, The American Stock Horse Association formed a special committee charged with researching the eligibility requirements for the Green Horse division. It was found that many of the horses that were no longer eligible to compete in the Green Horse division due to age restrictions yet were still found to be a green horse by definition and unable to compete at the Open level. The committee also determined that a large majority of the shows across the Nation had fewer numbers showing in the Green Horse classes. Under the previous eligibility requirements, a horse that won a single show, regardless of number of participants, would no longer be eligible to participate in the Green Horse Division.

To promote the growth of this division and to ensure that everyone is able to show a horse to its abilities, the committee felt a change was needed. Below are the changes made starting in the 2015 show year.

Green Horse Division Eligibility and Restrictions – Horses competing in the green horse division must possess an ASHA Horse Competition License. Any rider possessing a current ASHA membership may show a horse in this division. There will be no jackpot in this division. Horses in this division will show in the same patterns as the Open and Non- Pro with the exception of the working cow horse class which will be the Modified Working Cow Horse pattern. (See ASHA LTD Non Pro and Green Horse Working Cow Horse rules for specifics on rules for this division.)

A horse is eligible to be shown in this division if the following criteria are met:

1. Has never won a total of three All Around or Reserve All Around awards at any ASHA Event and has not won a year-end Champion or Reserve Champion in ASHA or similar organization. Has not earned more than 5 points in any breed association, (AQHA, APHA, etc.) or more than $100 in a national organization, (NCHA, NRCHA, NRHA, RHAA, etc.) in any western performance discipline, (western pleasure, working cow horse, reining, cutting, trail, etc.)
2. Horses that are eligible for the Green Horse Division may be shown in this division for a total of two show years, (1 year = January 1 – December 31), regardless of how many times they show in that two year span.
3. If a horse loses their green horse eligibility through competition, they may finish that year as a green horse. In the future, that horse is eligible only for other divisions.
4. A green horse may be shown by a rider from any division.
