- Bio's on Clinicians:

Brian Sumrall served as an ASHA and SHOT clinician and judge for over 10 years. This service has taken him throughout Texas and South-Eastern US promoting ranch versatility and the versatile stock horse. In 2011 Brian trained Peptos Special Kay and Cinco Silver Drift to multiple All-around Championships in versatility competition, as well as ASHA Region 1 Championship. Brian and his family operate a small training facility near Liberty, TX and train horses for Big Thicket Brangus. There emphasis is placed on developing a willing equine partner that the rider, whether youth or adult, can place confidence in. Brian will be leading our Stock Horse Trail/Ranch Versatility Clinic.

Dr. Dennis Sigler is our 2012 ASHA President and has led the ASHA association for the past 3 years and will be leading our Pleasure Clinic. He is a professor and Extension Horse Specialist in the Dept. of Animal Science at Texas A&M. As an equine educator for the past 34 years, he has conducted hundreds of educational programs, horsemanship clinics and trainings for both youth and adult and is currently the Stock Horse Team Coach for Texas A&M. He has trained and shown numerous state and national High-Point Champions and one Reserve World Champion. He was a founding member of the SHOT Assoc. and currently serves of the Board of Directors with ASHA and the Texas Quarter Horse Assoc.

Dr. Clay Cavinder is an associate professor of equine science and serves as the coach of the TAMU Horse Judging Team. He has his doctrine in equine reproductive physiology and teaches numerous courses focusing on how nutrition and exercise affect reproductive efficiency of the stallion and the mare. Clay grew up on a horse and cattle ranch in SE Oklahoma where his family raised and bred performance horses and ran a cow/calf operation. He himself was a competitive member of the horse judging

Clay enjoys riding and showing in reining and cowhorse events and also judges professionally holding many breed cards and has judged shows throughout US, Canada, Europe and Australia. He will be leading our Reining Clinic.

Jake Lemons of Cross L Performance Horses has been training and showing horses over the past 8 years fulltime, and has been around horses most of his life while working on ranches, in feed-yards, and horse related jobs. He resides in Comanche, Okla. with his wife and two beautiful little girls that are ready to roll with their boots and jeans to where ever Daddy lets them go! Horses have been a big part of Jake's life, and with his Bachelor's from Oklahoma State and his experience in working with some of the best ranch hands and horse trainers, Jake has made it his profession in the equine industry to raise and train horses in a slow and careful manner that will maximize each horses potential. He has proven his success and training champion horses in the show arena and has titles of Finals qualifier in the RHAA, NRCHA World Show and was All Around Champion in the Stock Horse Association. His philosophy is to go through life with a passion and purpose and always seek ways to become better and whatever you
